Mr. John Barleycorn Breathes His Last at Midnight Tonight

PORHIBITION AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION WILL USHER IN NEW ERA FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Constitutional prohibition, effective at midnight tonight, and the enforcement legislation enacted by congress, make the following provisions:

Declare unlawful the manufacture or sale of any beverage containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol.

Declare places where liquor is sold in violation of law to be common nuisances, abatable as such.

Search and seizure powers given prohibition enforcement officers, except for the search of private dwellings unless used for the unlawful sale of intoxicants or in part as places of business.

Liquor seized to be destroyed, vehicles and other property to be sold and proceeds paid into United States treasury.

Advertising of liquor by any method prohibited.

Permit manufacture at home for personal use of non-intoxicating ciders and fruit juices. While "non-intoxicating" is not defined specifically, the term "intoxicating" is construed by law to mean one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol.

Permit manufacture of alcoholic liquors for sacramental and medicinal uses, under restrictions.

Permit manufacture of alcohol for industrial and scientific uses.

Permit possession of liquor in home if purchased before prohibition became effective.

Physicians prohibited from prescribing alcoholic liquor for patient unless in good faith they believe it will afford relief from ailment. Not more than one pint can be prescribed in any month for one person.

Complete records of sales, including names of persons obtaining liquors, required of manufacturers and druggists.

Various penalties for violation fixed, the most severe being $2,000 fine and two years imprisonment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Constitutional prohibition becomes effective at midnight tonight.

From 12:01 A. M., the "manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes" is prohibited by the 18th amendment to the constitution, and the United States becomes the first nation of the world to make such a provision part of its basic law. Congress has defined an intoxicating liquor as any beverage containing one-half of one per cent, or more, of alcohol.

Actually, the advent of constitutional prohibition will make little difference in the daily life of the people of this country, as they have been living under the nation-wide war-time ban on alcoholic drinks since last July. There have been eager hopes entertained by the thirsty, by distillers and by speculators holding large quantities of whiskey for higher prices, that war-time prohibition would be lifted before today in accordance with the recommendation of President Wilson to congress, but congress refused to do so, and the arid spell now about to begin under authority of the nation's constitution, which prohibitionists declare will continue in effect for all time inasmuch as it could be revoked only in the same manner in which it came into existence, will permit no opportunity for the replenishing of private cellars or the unloading of investment stocks. There are two cases pending in the Supreme Court, however, attacking constitutional prohibition, one by the state of Rhode Island, the other on behalf of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of New Jersey.

Thousands of gallons of whiskey remain in bonded warehouses with no chance to be sold at prevailing high prices. The liquor can be taken out only for medicinal and scientific uses with the Bureau of Internal Revenue exacting extreme precautions to see that none of it is used in violation of the law. During the last two months, many owners of alcoholic liquors, foreseeing no opportunity for sale in this country, have endeavored to rush the surplus to other countries. Lack of shipping space prevented more than a fraction being exported. Cuba and the Bahamas have received most of what

TO MEMBERS OF ADA CHAMBER COMMERCE

The all-week carnival now going on at the city hall for the purpose of helping the Chamber of Commerce raise year is YOUR carnival.

If it doesn't prove profitable, then YOU are to blame if YOU are not giving it the support it deserves. The committee thought this a better way to raise a little sum for running expenses than picking it out of you from time to time without giving you anything in return.

If every member of the organization—to say nothing of the public at large—would go to the carnival one night and take their families, the thing would be a howling success.

But the members are not doing this—and more's the pity.

Too many things in this town go by default. We hurry and yell and raise particular h— about this thing and that thing, and everything in general, but that don't put things over the plate. What's needed just now is a little more do and a little less hoodoo.

Get busy, men, and let's make tonight and tomorrow night profitable nights and please the boys who have worked so hard to make the carnival a success.

KANSAS STILL HAS PLENTY OF WATER

FOR THIS REASON THE IRRIGATION COMMISSIONER THINKS THE STATE HAS A WONDERFUL FUTURE

By the Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 16.—All things considered, irrigation should be profitable anywhere in Kansas, said George S. Knapp, state irrigation commissioner, in addressing the 49th annual meeting of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture today.

"Kansas has a water supply which compares favorably with that of any of the leading irrigation states," said Mr. Knapp. "It is distributed well over the state. There are not less than five million acres of about one-tenth of the total area of the state which has a water supply sufficient for irrigation. There is some irrigable land in all parts of the state, but by far the largest proportion of it is in the western part where irrigation may be done from wells while in the eastern part only those valleys which have running streams in them offer opportunity for the practice of irrigation on any thing more than a truck gardening scale."

Mr. Knapp said that irrigation in Western Kansas practiced by pumping water from wells is a "safe, sound and profitable undertaking with any crop". He gave results obtained from experiments at the Garden City Experiment Station, where the water is lifted more than a hundred feet, which showed that the application of $2 worth of water to alfalfa produced a ton of hay. Last season, 1919, alfalfa at this Experiment Station produced 7 1-2 tons of hay. Other crops produced very good returns.

If irrigation has been so profitable in the western part of the state, argued Mr. Knapp, it ought to be more profitable in the eastern part of the state wherever a water supply is available, because, as he pointed out, water can be pumped directly from rivers or streams without the expense of putting in irrigation wells, and therefore pumping plants can be put in at a much smaller cost than in Western Kansas. Mr. Knapp pointed out that in June 1916, the average condition of corn was 81.2 per cent based on 100 percent as representing a good stand and satisfactory growth and development. The average yield that followed was 47.2 per cent of a normal crop for the past twenty years. Conditions changed more radically in 1918, when an average condition of 82 per cent was reported in June and but 38 per cent of a normal yield was harvested. Such crops, Mr. Knapp said, could be irrigated during the latter part of the summer at an expense of $1.00 to $2.00 an acre, and oft times the yield could be increased 20 bushels an acre by such irrigation.

See Jiggs and Maggie for the first time this week at the Carnival. The name of the players have not been announced. You'll bust your sides when you see this. Don't wear anything tight—it'll be dangerous. At the Carnival tonight. 1-16-11

AMERICAN COMPOSER DIES VERY SUDDENLY

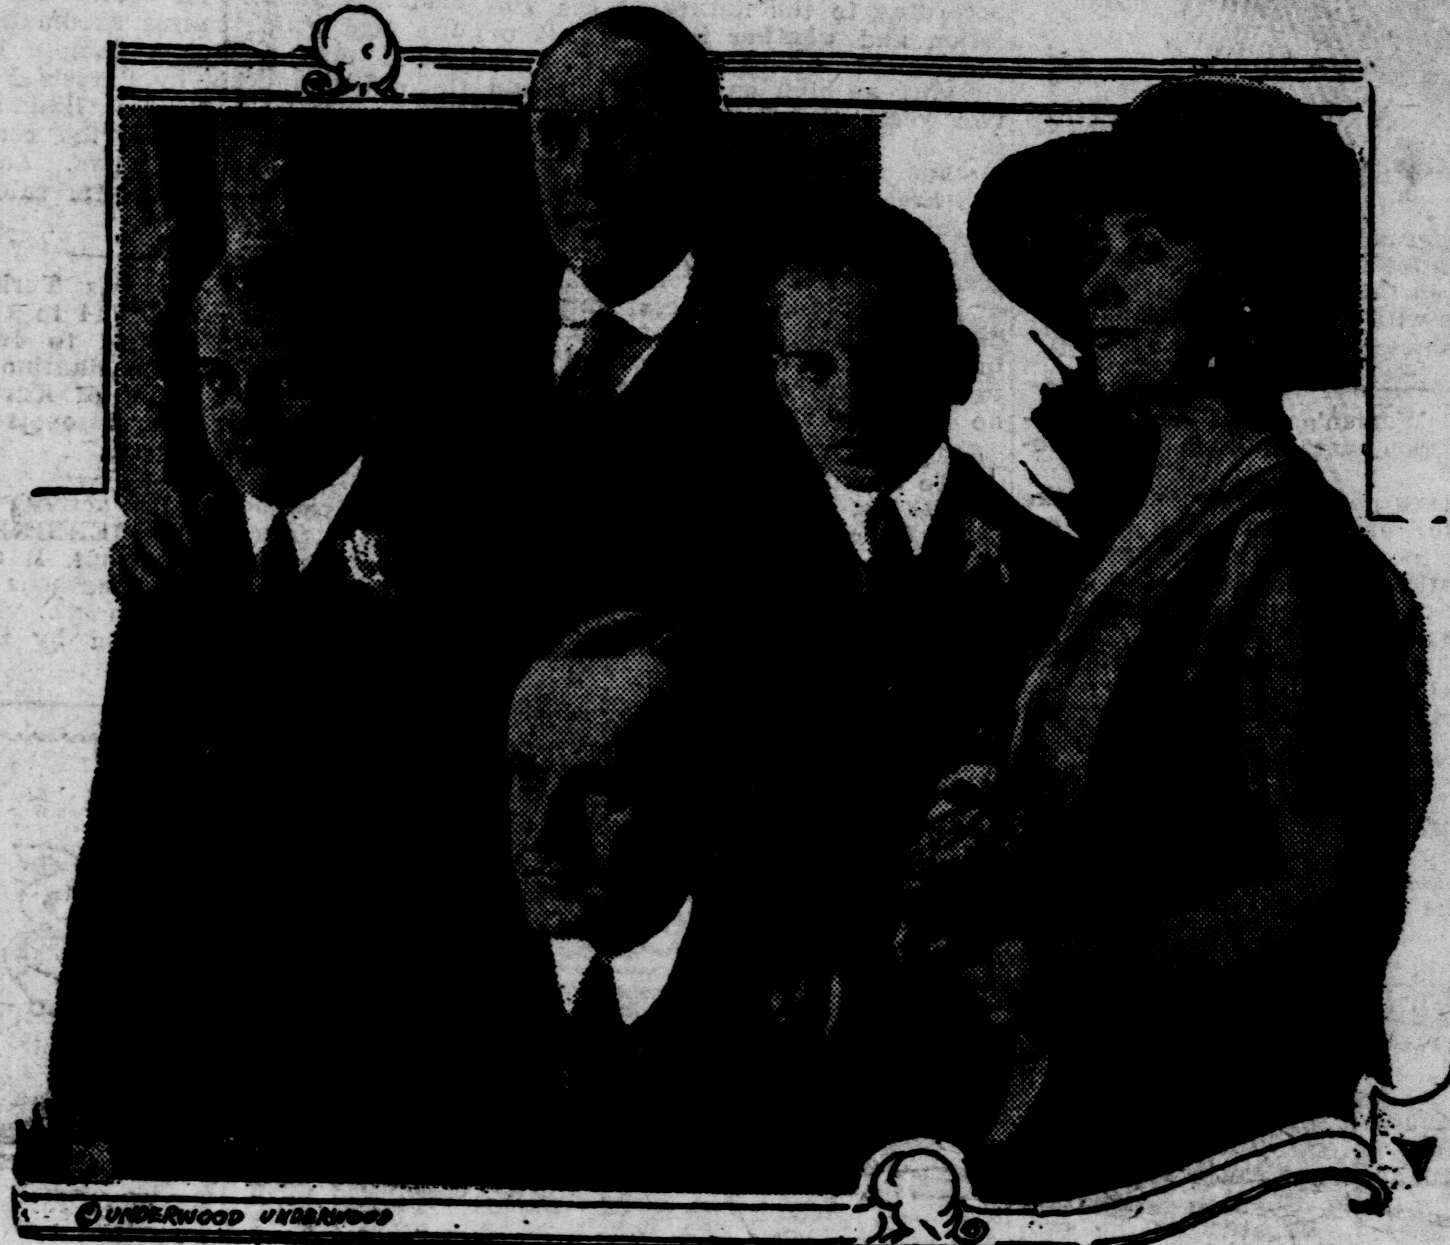

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Reginald De Koven, American operatic composer and conductor, died here early tonight of apoplexy.

Mr. DeKoven, who had been here for several weeks superintending one of his own productions, "Rip Van Winkle," was attending a dinner at the home of Mrs. Joseph Fish, when he became suddenly ill. He died within a few minutes.

Mr. DeKoven was the founder of the Washington Symphony Orchestra of which he was conductor. He was the composer of the opera and also had written the music to several songs. "Oh, Promise Me" was among his works. DeKoven was born in Middletown, Conn., April 3, 1851. He graduated from Oxford in 1870 and studied music in Stuttgart, Florence, Paris and Venice.

REPUBLICAN SPLIT IN SHAWNEE TODAY

TWO CONVENTIONS TO BE HELD AND TWO SETS OF DELEGATES WILL GO TO THE NATL. CONVENTION.

By News' Special Service

SHAWNEE, Okla., Jan. 16.—Two sets of delegates will be elected here this afternoon in the fourth district republican convention, each instructed to go to the state and national conventions and vote for Jake L. Hamon and J. J. McGraw as national committeemen. Both will be instructed for General Leonard Wood. It is declared.

When the old and new congressional committees met this morning the new committee controlled by Hamon, grabbed control and in a great uproar proceeded to credit all delegations for Hamon. This procedure was taken under authority of a telegram from Vernon L. Whiting of Pawhuska, state chairman, to the effect that the newly elected district committeemen should sit at once. The old committee, controlled by McGraw, promptly held a separate meeting and accredited all delegations to him with the result that there will be two conventions held this afternoon.

McGraw issued a statement declaring that Whiting's ruling is absolutely in opposition to the rules of the republican party and that his two delegates will be seated when they go to the republican national convention June 8th in Chicago.

OKMULGEE GIVES $7,000 FOR OWEN IN FIVE MINUTES

OKMULGEE, Jan. 15.—Okmulgee county's quota of $7,000 in the Oklahoma $100,000 Owen for president fund, was subscribed today by twelve leading Okmulgee men, headed by State Fair Price Commissioner John H. Rebold, in a five-minute session.

Peoria Not Dead Yet

By the Associated Press

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 16.—Peoria, for half a century the greatest distilling center in the world today is helping bury John Barley corn, but mourners are chuckling as they help do the job. Predictions of business stagnation because of old John's death have gone wrong. Peoria's great distilling plants are converted into food product concerns. More men will be employed than ever before. Distillery money is being loosened in all business lines and Peoria today is enjoying a building growth and commercial increase such as it never before has experienced.

Eleven Cities Seek Franchise

By the Associated Press

FT. SMITH, Jan. 16.—Representatives of eleven cities seeking franchises in the Western Association have been invited to a re organization meeting at Muskogee, January 25. The call was issued this morning by J. E. Fletcher of Tulsa, Oklahoma, a former vice president of the association. Ft. Smith, Ark., Muskogee, Okmulgee, McAlester, Ardmore, Enid and Drumright, Oklahoma, Paris, Denison and Sherman, Texas and Springfield, Mo. are expected to be represented.

Selection of eight cities to make up the league is expected to be made at the meeting.

ALLIES PLAN TO CURB BOLSHIEVSKI

THREAT OF THE BOLSHIEVSKI AGAINST POLAND SERIOUSLY CONSIDERED BY THE ALLIED HEADS

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The impression prevailed here today that in the conference at Paris of premier Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, war minister, Walter Hume Long, first lord of the Admiralty; Admiral Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, and Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the Imperial Staff, it would be decided to take some definite action against the Bolshevik military aggression.

The Persian government has requested Great Britain to state what assistance can be given Persia in the event of a Bolshevik invasion and what defensive action by Persia would accord with the British policy.

An unconfirmed report from Berlin says that Enver Pasha, former Turkish war minister who was recently crowned king of Kurdistan, has been in Berlin and has proceeded to Asia Minor. This raises the question of whether he was trying to enlist the support of German extremist elements in carrying out cooperation between the Turks and the Bolsheviks.

In Mesopotamia the British are forced to contend with difficulties arising from racial dissension. It was said that capture of the Crimea by the Bolsheviks would make the Black Sea virtually a Russian Bolshevik lake.

While there is a possibility the Bolsheviks may launch an overwhelming attack against Poland, the statement issued yesterday showed the greatest preoccupation over the debate of General Denekine's armies and the rapid advance of the Soviet forces towards the Persian and Afghanistan frontiers.

Admiral Kolschak's army in Siberia seems to have been completely defeated and routed.

60 PRISONERS ESCAPE IN YEAR

REPORT SHOWS 24 STILL AT LARGE; 427 PRISONERS TERMINATE SENTENCES DURING 1919

MCLESTER, Jan. 15.—Sixty prisoners escaped from the Oklahoma state penitentiary during 1919, according to the annual report of Dr. J. G. Duncan, record clerk. This number is three more than escaped in 1918. Of those escaping, 36 were apprehended and returned to the prison, leaving 24 still at large. Last year 31 of the escapers were returned.

According to Dr. Duncan, most of the escapes occurred from road camps and a number from the state farm at Aylesworth. The opportunity offered while away from the prison walls is too great a temptation to resist. A number of these are "trusties." The percentage of trustees taking advantage of their liberties is so small, however, compared to their entire number and the cost of maintaining a camp of trustees is so greatly decreased from what it might be if a larger number of guards were necessary, that the custom of allowing prisoners of exemplary conduct additional freedom is considered a paying one. Dr. Duncan says. Escapes of prisoners from the prison proper are rare.

Most of the escapes occur during July and August, records show. The greater difficulty of hiding while making the escape in winter is given as the cause. Escaped convicts in winter are driven to seek shelter in houses and from people while in summer they can more easily avoid detection by hiding in barns, straw-stacks and in the woods until they get far away from the scene of their escape.

Five full pardons were granted by Governor Robertson during the year. One hundred and twenty-nine paroles were issued. A total of 427 prisoners were released on expiration of pardons after they had served their full terms.

LEADERS OF ALLIED POWERS HOLD MEETING

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Representatives of France, Great Britain, Italy, Greece, Belgium, Spain, Japan and Brazil, members of the council of the League of Nations were in the clock room of the French foreign office at 10 o'clock this morning, for the first meeting in the history of the League. The council organized at 10:30 o'clock by electing Leon Bourgeois chairman, and confirming the choice of Sir Erick Drummond of Great Britain as general secretary.

The first official act of the council was the appointment of a commission to restore immediately the frontier of the territory of Ferre Basin.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Leon Bourgeois, French representative, who presides, said: "The task of presiding at this meeting and inaugurating this great international institution should have fallen to President Wilson. We respect the reasons which still delay final decision by our friends in Washington, but express the hope that the great American republic will occupy the place awaiting Mr. Wilson."

The French representatives proposed London as the place for the next meeting of the council and this was approved. Lord Curzon suggested leaving the date and the order of business open to be decided by the chairman and the secretary, which he said will be necessary to consult the United States on a great many questions which are likely to arise.

BARLEYCORN BREATHES

ently are not viewed with alarm by the reform forces. After the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of war-time prohibition and the measures to enforce it, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, announced that the only question left on which the wets could make a fight was whether prohibition was a proper subject for constitutional action and whether the amendment had been adopted legally. He contended there was no doubt on the subject. New Jersey officials, who searched state department records of the ratification of the amendment, announced they had found no variations in language which would warrant attacking it.

Enforcement of constitutional prohibition was lodged by congress with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which for years has been in close touch with distilling and brewing interests in the collection of excise taxes and active in running down "moonshiners." Evidence collected by the Bureau will be used in prosecutions by the department of justice. Commissioner Roper has established an entirely separate division in the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the enforcement of prohibition, headed by John F. Kramer of Mansfield, Ohio, as prohibition commissioner for the United States. He will have under him nine federal supervisors in charge of as many districts, a director in each state and a mobile force which can be shifted from place to place as conditions demand.

Mr. Roper has made plain, however, that enforcement of prohibition depends largely on local sentiment and has appealed to citizens of the United States to give their co-operation to unholding the law of the country. Federal forces, he said, would be used to reinforce local efforts, and where any state officer failed in his duty his constituents would be informed.

Approximately $500,000,000 in taxes has been collected annually on alcoholic beverages, which now will have to be obtained by the government in some other way.

Prohibition sentiment, culminating in the epoch-making amendment to the constitution, has been growing steadily in this country since 1808, according to records compiled by the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church. At that time, a demand for moderation in the use of ardent spirits arose, followed ten years later by an even broader movement for abstinence from ardent spirits and for moderation in the use of malt liquors. This in turn gave way, in 1840, to sentiment for abstinence from all alcoholic beverages.

Agitation for abolition of the practice of licensing the sale of liquors did not come until 1947, resulting four years later in the enactment of prohibition laws in Maine, the first state to put prohibition into effect. Kansas was second in 1820 and North Dakota third in 1889. Meanwhile, the movement had grown to such proportions that a National Prohibition Party was formed at a convention in Chicago, September 1, 1869.

Women, always in the forefront of the activity to stop the sale of alcoholic drinks, organized for a concerted fight after the famous Women's Crusade, 1873-4. Their association was later to become known throughout the world by the name of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, with a little white ribbon.

Another powerful influence in the fight for prohibition came into existence in 1893 in the formation of the Anti-Saloon League. It is noteworthy that both of these organizations had their inception in Ohio.

The modern wave of prohibition legislation began with Georgia in 1907. Since that time the movement gained strength more rapidly than any other reform in the history of the world, so that 33 states already have prohibition by state action, in 21 adopted by popular vote, and in the others by legislative measures. At the time the constitutional amendment was submitted, 24 of the 48 states and considerably more than half of the territorial United States, had prohibition. In states where prohibition was not statewide, it had been adopted under local option laws by many communities.

In addition to state laws, there have been in effect stringent measures adopted by congress as aids toward winning the war, which gave a tremendous impetus to the prohibition movement. Studying the examples of foreign countries, a law was passed making it unlawful to provide any man in uniform with alcoholic beverages. Making of beer and whiskey was stopped under the food control act and the sale of drinks was terminated at midnight, last June 30. Shipment of liquor into any state was prohibited by the bone-dry law.

The constitutional amendment was finally adopted by congress on Dec. 18, 1917, with a restrictive clause, hitherto unknown in legislative procedure, that it would be inoperative unless ratified within seven years. It required only 13 months. The vote in the House was 281 to 128 and in the Senate 65 to 20.

Submission of the amendment to the states came at a time when many legislatures were assembling. Mississippi quickly put its approval on the amendment and was followed in order by Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Dakota, Maryland, Montana, Texas, Delaware, South Dakota, Massachusetts, Arizona, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida, Michigan, Ohio, Oklahoma, Maine, Tennessee, Illinois, Colorado, West Virginia, Idaho, California, Indiana, Arkansas, North Carolina, Washington, Alabama, Kansas, Oregon, Utah, Iowa, New Hampshire and Nebraska, making the required 36 states, three-fourths of the union, for the amendment to become effective.

Nine more states likewise gave their ratification, 45 in all, as follows: Wyoming, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nevada, New Mexico, Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania. Acting Secretary of State Frank L. B. Folke proclaimed the amendment as part of the constitution under date of January 29, 1919, but it goes into effect one year from the date of ratification by the 36th state. As that took effect January 16, 1919, the amendment is operative, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, at midnight tonight.

To enforce constitutional prohibition, congress enacted a bill so drastic that a man can be fined or put in jail for even displaying a picture of a brewery or a keg. Right to store liquor in one's own home for personal use stood up, however, against vigorous attacks in both senate and house.

Alcoholic beverages still may be produced for medicinal and sacramental uses, and alcohol will continue to be made for scientific and industrial purposes, but many safeguards are provided that the law shall not be violated. The home manufacture and consumption of non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices is permitted by law. In the manufacture of cereal drinks, commonly referred to as "near beer," it was provided that other names shall be used than beer or porter.

Places where intoxicating liquors are sold can be declared a nuisance and abated as such, and the persons guilty of maintaining them are punishable under the criminal sections of the enforcement law. Punishments for violation of the law vary, according to the nature of the violation and whether it is a first or subsequent offense, the penalties running as high as $2,000 fine and two years' imprisonment. Advertising of liquors by any means or method is prohibited.

Search for contraband liquor is permitted under warrants, except that private dwellings may not be searched unless used for illegal sale or in part for business purposes. Seized whiskey and property used in illegal sale or transportation are to be destroyed, the owner having no property rights in it.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE
YOU MUST HAVE THE BEST

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Ada News. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

LABOR WILL STAND FIRM SAYS FENTON

PRESIDENT OF THE STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR SAYS LABOR ACCEPTS THE BATTLE GAGE.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 15.—"Organized labor has no rights to surrender, no compromise to offer, and accepts the gage of battle in a manner that becomes those who are fighting for liberty, their homes and firesides," is part of a statement issued this morning following an all-day conference of members of the executive committee of the State Federation of Labor called by President Edgar Fenton to take action relative to the proposed open shop campaign which will be opened by the Employers' association when it meets here Friday.

The statement goes on to say that "the members of organized labor have learned to fight for freedom in the trenches in France; learned to sacrifice, to give the lives of its members on the battlefield for an ideal. In the battle now proposed by our enemies in the industrial field, we shall, if necessary, and if forced to do so, continue to apply the lessons learned and to support to the last those brothers of ours who are being made the object of attack of unscrupulous employers."

Calm, deliberative consideration of the problem now confronting organized labor is urged. It is recommended that a campaign of organization be undertaken in every locality in the state, to show to the unorganized worker that his welfare is at stake, "for when the organized worker is vanquished—then comes the unorganized—all of which means industrial serfdom."

Resolutions adopted by the members of the executive committee of the State Federation declare that the open shop is not the vehicle of industrial freedom as claimed by its advocates, but in fact is a closed shop to the union man and to the non-union man who shows a disposition not to accept and tolerate unbearable conditions as imposed by the unscrupulous employers.

It is resolved "by the executive board of the State Federation of Labor and the state-wide organizations of carpenters, painters, bricklayers, sheet metal workers, and representatives of trades councils of Tulsa, Sapulpa, Okmulgee, Oklahoma City and the United Mine Workers of district No. 21, that we deplore the activity of these open shop advocates in increasing the discontent and unrest in Oklahoma, and thereby setting at naught all efforts of organized labor since the European war to stabilize conditions; that we urge closer cohesion on the part of organized labor, and further urge that a campaign of organization be undertaken in all lines of work, and among all wage earners to use all fair and honorable means to defeat the ends of these employers and their henchmen to increase unrest and to bring to an end all harmonious relations between employer and employee that it is our ambition to maintain."

DRY LAW A BLOW TO OLD KENTUCKY

ADVENT OF NATIONAL PROHIBITION WILL FIND HER WITH WARE HOUSES BULGING WITH "LIKKER"

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—John Barleycorn's knockout, definitely completed tomorrow when he takes the final count with the advent of national prohibition, will be keenly felt in Kentucky where bonded warehouses bulge with unattainable millions of gallons of prime to ordinary "drinking likker", as Kentuckians commonly express it.

Early in December best estimates were that 35,000,000 gallons with an ordinary wholesale value of about $400,000,000 were under the guardianship of Uncle Sam, being mellowed and awaiting withdrawal from bond. Most of it, whiskey men say, is there yet in stout oak barrels subject to slow evaporation—"Out rage", internal revenue men term it—destruction by the elements and other commercial hazards, including possible theft.

Its vicissitudes form an interesting chapter. Early in 1919 its owners refused to be stamped by the probable advent of wartime prohibition. When they saw that law became effective July 1, they sat tight and awaited developments. With the constitutionality of the wartime law determined early in December they were shocked into action and vainly tried to export it. Now they wait, hoping for a miracle that will enable them to convert it from a liability into an asset and turn it into cash.

They had pinned their hopes on executive action in lifting the wartime bane. "Tomorrow," it was whispered, "President Wilson by proclamation will declare demobilization of the army completed and the whiskey ban will be off."

"Tomorrow" never came. Finally came a ruling from the Department of Internal revenue almost coincident with the Supreme Court's wartime prohibition decision, that all whiskey intended for export must be out of the country by January 16 when constitutional prohibition was to become effective. A scramble ensued for a safe harbor in the prohibition storm. Interests at southern ports with their rail connections, suggested Cuba as a convenient place to sequester John Barley corn. Railroads came forward with offers of cars, port interests and steamship companies bid for the potential business, and the United States Shipping Board offered to allocate enough ships to move the whiskey stock to the island.

Then the blow fell. Neither Havana, nor any other Cuban port had warehouse facilities sufficient to care for the ocean of liquid which was about to be outlawed. Ingenious minds suggested shipments of collapsible American steel houses along with whiskey shipments to be quickly erected in Havana or vicinity. It sounded well until somebody began to figure on the cost. A distiller announced the belief that the project would bankrupt anybody who tried it and the plan was abandoned.

Gradually, it was said, export shipments were centered in the hands of a New York Corporation which began sending them to Hamburg for German sale and consumption and what stocks have left the country largely have been handled in that manner.

ma Pharmaceutical Travelers' association will be held at the same time while women's auxiliaries of the druggists' association also will be there for the gathering. The examinations of the state board will be held here April 12 and 13.

The population of Muskogee probably will be swelled by 1,500 during the three days' convention, according to William E. Delehant, president of the local association. Talks by speakers of national repute, consideration of questions affecting the retail drug trade and a big banquet will be the outstanding features of the big session.

Three prominent Oklahoma druggists are in Muskogee to help with the arrangement for the big event. They are to be at the Thursday night meeting to help the local druggists in planning the three-day program.

The visitors are W. R. Jarrett of Oklahoma City, secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy; R. Lee Drummond of Dewar, president of the state association; Thomas Roach of Oklahoma City, president of the Southwestern Druggists' association. "We expect the Muskogee convention to be the largest ever held in the state," said Mr. Roach. "Formation of district organizations all over the state have helped to boost our membership and the interest of the members."

Members of the local ladies' auxiliary will plan for the entertainment of other auxiliary members. Druggists will be expected to bring their wives, sisters, mothers and sweethearts along, say local druggists. The banquet of about 700 plates will be one of the largest ever held here, it is said.

GOOD BYE, JOHN

This morning John Barleycorn breathed his last. After a long and painful illness superinduced by the W. C. T. U., assisted by the Anti-Saloon league, John gathered the mantle of his couch about him and went to that bourne from which no traveler returns. He now sleeps with his fathers, and the water that bursts from the hillsides of Columbia now reigns in his stead.

We shall miss you, John. In spite of your bad reputation and your general proclivity to raise Cain in unbroken doses, you were the most delicious beverage that ever painted shadows on the brain of man. Men who spoke of you as a fiery poison burning the life-blood from the arteries of humanity were never really acquainted with you. If they had been, they would have known better than to cast reflections on your power to charm and enthrall. You had your good qualities, like your father, the devil, and we are proud to speak this one word for you now that you are gone.

But you were a monumental ingrate, you old sinner. You had no respect for your friends. You would filch the last penny from the purse of your backers and leave them in the alley with nothing but a dark brown taste and a headache to entertain them on the morning after. You converted the Prince Albert of your supporter into a breech clout and clothed thousands of your devotees in the striped apparel of the prison. You even sent the wives of your friends into padded cells and their children into almshouses. You were too selfish by far and the people got tired of your selfishness.

Then you were more autocratic than a kraut-eating kaiser. You controlled elections, bluffed congresses, packed juries, and governed states with an iron hand. You brought judges to your throne and forced them to lick the dust from your sandals. You were the only king American freemen have ever known and you were more absolute and more insolent than the Great White Czar. You died because a nation realized that it could never win its freedom till your toes were pointing towards the stars. Your tyranny led you to your own undoing and started you on the primrose path to the eternal bonfire. You were such a ludicrous old codger, John. You made legislators lose the manuscript of fiery prohibition speeches under the green covered tables in Red Cameron's booze parlors. You broke up revivals by upsetting the equilibrium of evangelists and causing them to ascend the platform wearing their clothes wrong side before. You sowed the seed of discord in village choirs by causing choir leaders to rise and sing, "I'm a cute little gutter pup, sweet little gutter pup. Hic!" You drove optometrists crazy as they tried to invent glasses that would prevent young men from seeing two sweethearts swinging in the hammock where only one should swing. You just played hell, John—you know you did.

But you are gone, John, and most of the world will bear the blow of your departure with great patience. You caused things to happen while you were up and going, and for some of your worshippers this old world is going to seem like an aching void. You had your friends and you had your enemies, and none of these will ever deny that the most appropriate epitaph to engrave upon your tomb is the classic sentence: "He done his derndest."

Some student of International law has it all figured out that hereafter American liners cannot furnish liquor to passengers crossing the ocean, but that liners of other nations can and will furnish all the liquor desired. Which gives all of us three guesses as to what ships will carry most passengers.

Just as an ordinary newspaper man we would like very much to know if Senator Arthur Capper pays Editor Arthur Capper of the seven Capper papers for the political advertising of Senator Arthur Capper with which Editor Arthur Capper fills the columns of the seven Capper papers.

The Los Angeles Times broke a world record the other Sunday by getting out an edition of 188 pages. It was a great newspaper stunt, but one would be safe in asserting that there is not a man, woman, or child on the Pacific Coast who read

WOMAN WEIGHED BUT SIXTY-SIX POUNDS

"I wouldn't give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines in Ensley and Birmingham put together," said Mrs. J. D. Morrison, 315 25th Street, Ensley, Ala. "Three years ago," she continued, "I lost my health, had stomach trouble of the worst kind and just seemed to go into a slow decline. I lost my strength, never knew what it was to get a good night's rest and was a nervous wreck. I suffered also from biliousness and constipation and was never free from pain. I was taken to the hospital for an operation, and when I was taken home afterwards I weighed only sixty-six pounds and was so weak it looked like I would never recover. After trying everything else that was recommended to me without getting any better, I decided to see if Tanlac would help me. While on my second bottle my appetite picked up and I began to improve. I kept on with Tanlac and soon was able to eat whatever I wanted without having any unpleasantness afterwards. My nerves became quiet so I could sleep at night and my weight increased thirty-three pounds. I am now doing all my own housework and nothing seems to hurt me at all. I believe I owe my life to Tanlac and never expect to be without it."

Eastern Star

Install Their New Officers

The public installation of the new officers of the Ada Chapter of the Eastern Star last evening was attended by a large number of members and friends of the order. Both the beautiful installation service and the literary program following were highly enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs. McNair had been chosen for installation officer and in a graceful and impressive manner installed the following officers:

Worthy Matron, Mary Esther Chisholm
Worthy Patron, Luther Harrison
Associate Matron, Edith M. Kee
Secretary, Birdie Nesbit
Treasurer, Marie Bailey
Conductress, Jewell Rowzee
Associate Conductress, Louise Vaden

Chaplain, Mrs. T. E. Brénts.
Pianist, Margaret Crowder.
Marshall, Mary Horton West.
Ada, Willie Goyné.
Ruth, Mae Crouch.
Esther, Ella Adair.
Martha, Margaret Crawford.
Electa, Rurah Kennon.
Warder, Ola Anderson.
Sentinel, J. M. Nesbit.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. C. Morris of the First Baptist Church. Delightful readings by Miss Bess Barrow and Miss Beulah Smoot were features of the program and were keenly enjoyed. Miss Dorothy Duncan gave a vocal solo that won hearty applause. As a token of esteem the chapter presented an Eastern Star emblem to the retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mary Horton West. After the benediction by Rev. C. V. Dunn of the First Christian Church, refreshments were served.

NORMAL STUDENTS AT THE POULTRY SHOW

All the students of the agricultural classes of the Normal are attending the Pontotoc County Poultry Show today. They are making a comparative study of the classes, breeds and types of this splendid poultry exhibit. Many of the students at the beginning of the agricultural courses are unable to name more than two or three breeds and have no definite knowledge of the feeding and housing of poultry. After completing this agricultural course these students are able to identify the characteristics of the breeds and they also have a definite knowledge of poultry management. In fact, many of the Normal school students who have completed the agricultural course at the Normal are now making good money in actual poultry production.

Miles Grigsby Quits the News For Insurance

Miles C. Grigsby, who has been connected with the Ada News so long that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, has offered his resignation, effective Saturday, January 17, and will embark on a career of life insurance.

Mr. Grigsby leaves the newspaper and job printing business with the best of feeling and the good wishes of every one he has been associated with. He, too, has many regrets in severing his connection with this line of work, but the time has come when it is necessary for him to make more money, and he realizes that he must get in other lines in order to do it. That he will find financial success as well as pleasure in his new work no one who knows him will for a minute doubt.

Mr. Grigsby came to Ada in 1907, and he and Byron Norrel bought the old Weekly Democrat. By eating cheese and crackers, setting type day and night and otherwise working hard and saving frugally, these two Texans were able to turn a dead newspaper and job office into a money making business.

Then the old Weekly Democrat and the News publications were merged in 1910. Mr. Grigsby became foreman of the composing room. When there was a vacancy in the office of business manager, there was only one man to fill that and it was Grigsby. In that position he made his greatest success, establishing the business as one of the best in the Southwest and giving it almost unlimited credit with all wholesale houses in the country.

Mr. Grigsby is saddened to leave a business to which he has devoted his entire past life. When a mere tot, he worked for twelve months in a small shop in Texas for nothing, in order that he might learn something of the game. From nothing a month he began to climb and has handled every job in the mechanical department. It means the severing of lifetime ties for him to quit the game, but the stern realities of life demand sacrifices, and it sometimes takes a brave man to meet them.

Mr. Grigsby will be associated with Lee Huber as agent for the Massachusetts mutual life insurance company, which he styles the best in the world. It has features, he says, which are superior to those of almost any other company. Believing in his company as he does and also believing that every man of any consequence who dies without leaving some insurance money for his wife and children has committed a moral wrong, he has every chance to succeed.

Poultry Judge Says Ada Show Is a Good One

"This is one of the best shows I have judged in some time, and as good for quality as you will ever see in this part of the country. There are some birds of real quality in this exhibition."

So spoke George C. Winans, poultry judge, to a News reporter at the show room this morning. The show is not only a good one as regards quality but there are a greater number of exhibits than had been anticipated by the officers of the association.

Many people have visited the exhibition today, and tomorrow, being Saturday, will no doubt witness hundreds of people visiting the show.

One of the chief attractions is the exhibit of fancy hares. John Weiborn has his Felmish Giants there and there are also some excellent specimens of the Belgian Reds on show.

Mr. Weiborn is a fancier of several years' experience, but it seems that his affections have turned to the hares and he is giving them his especial attention at this time.

The show is open to the public free of charge at all hours of the day, and those interested in good poultry will find it both pleasant and profitable to visit the show. The judging of the exhibits will be finished today and a list of the awards will be published in the News tomorrow.

LAMBASTS SENATE AS "FIFTH WHEEL"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Demanding recognition just before adjournment of the senate tonight, Senator Williams, democrat of Mississippi, launched a bitter attack upon that body for failure to give what he described as proper consideration to the pending water power bill.

A motion to adjourn had been withdrawn temporarily for presentation of two minor bills and members were piling out in some confusion when the strident voice of the Mississippi senator brought them to a halt. Eleven senators remained—six on the democratic and five on the republican side of the chamber, Senator Williams declared the upper branch of congress was paying no attention whatever to the people's business.

"The people of this country are gradually rising to the point where they demand abolition of the senate for failure to function," Senator Williams shouted. "Here is a great bill, and no one is paying any attention to it. I am inclined to agree with Benjamin Franklin who declared the senate of the United States was like the fifth wheel of a wagon."

Again surveying the almost empty chamber, Senator Williams said:

"Mr. President, I am almost tempted to demand a quorum, only it would be too un-club like."

With that Senator Williams sat down and Senator Smith of Georgia on his way out, hat and overcoat in hand, ended the proceedings by calling attention to the fact that the motion to adjourn was pending.

False Pretense Charged Against Francis Citizen

C. C. Smith of Francis was arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. It seems that Smith came to Ada early in the week driving a team belonging to Ed Milligan, and going to one of the local banks he represented the team as being his own and mortgaged it for about $150.00. The local officers in some way discovered the deception Smith had practiced and arrested him yesterday.

A.W. Pollock Is Now Member of A.P. Brown Co.

Mr. A. W. Pollock, who has been managing the A. P. Brown Co. store at this place, formerly the Union Store, has purchased an interest in the company and will make Ada his permanent home.

Mr. Pollock is a man of several years' experience in the mercantile business, has traveled in the state for sixteen years and is well known to the business men all over the state.

Mrs. Pollock is also here now and they are both pleased with Ada and her future prospects. Mr. Pollock is a member of all the leading lodge fraternities and is anxious, as he says, to identify himself with all movements looking to the upbuilding of the city. He has high hopes for Ada and wants to be numbered among the men who are working to the end that it may continue to grow and become a bigger and better place to live and do business in. The Brown Company has a string of stores in Oklahoma, all of which are strong, reputable institutions. With Mr. Pollock in charge of the company's business in Ada there is no doubt that it will become one of the strong and prosperous mercantile establishments of the city.

Bill Coffman will appear in his natural role at the carnival tonight as Simple Simon. Bill has gone to lots of trouble and expense to get up this part. He's a scream. He swears he will never appear before the public again, and this is the last chance to see him playing this feature. 1-16-17

Don't fail to see the educated pony, the trained dogs, trained menagerie. At the Carnival tonight. 1

A BIG BOOZE HAUL IS MADE AT MIAMI

MIAMI, Jan. 15.—Federal enforcement officers today confiscated 19,761 bottles of various kinds of "jag" producers, ranging from vanilla extract to hard cider, in Ottawa county, according to T. E. Brents, chief United States enforcement officer for Oklahoma. He said every bottle represented a sociable drink. Many stores had extracts with too much kick, but they were ignorant of the law, he declared.

Four arrests were made today after 600 gallons of cider had been analyzed. Some of it had more than 3 per cent of alcohol. It was found in pool halls and other amusement places in the mining towns.

Damage Action Being Tried In District Court

Damage suits for personal injuries consumed the day in Judge Bolen's court yesterday. The first case tried was that wherein C. B. Saunders was suing the M. O. & G. for injuries received several months ago at Durant. He was asking for $25,000, alleging permanent injuries. The jury gave him a verdict for $20,000.

The Frisco was defendant in a suit for damages brought by J. E. Daniels for injuries received at Roff. It seems that Daniels was unloading a car at Roff when a passing train more or less frightened his team, causing the team to run away and injure plaintiff more or less seriously. The jury gave him $1,163.33.

In the suit of F. L. Dack vs. the M. O. & G. for personal injuries, the jury gave the plaintiff $5,000.

Suit Against Cement Company Is Dismissed

Judge A. L. Bullock, acting as special judge in the suit of W. W. Faggs vs. the Oklahoma Portland Cement company, sustained a demurrer to the evidence this afternoon and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff based his suit on the allegation that dust from the cement mills had damaged his home and farm permanently, wherefore he brought suit for $13,000.00. The trial consumed most of two days. When the plaintiff rested after the introduction of his testimony the defense demurred to the evidence, which demurrer was sustained. J. F. McKee appeared for the defendant, while the plaintiff was represented by B. C. Wadlington.

Ferris Will Talk Thirteen Times in State Next Week

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 16.—Representative Scott Ferris has a rapid-fire schedule planned for next week. Delayed in coming here by his desire to remain in Washington in conference on the general oil leasing bill, Ferris has arranged to speak day and night in the First congressional district for six days, beginning Monday.

The first day of next week will be spent in the several towns of Ottawa county. Monday night Ferris will speak at Miami. (The rest of the schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, Tulsa county; Tuesday night, Tulsa.

Wednesday, Washington county; Wednesday night, Bartlesville.

Thursday, Nowata county; Thursday night, Nowata.

Friday, Osage county; Friday night, Pawhuska.

Saturday, Pawnee county; Saturday night, Pawnee.

John W. Tyree, recently a lieutenant in the army aviation service and now engaged in commercial aviation at Pawhuska, was at Ferris headquarters here yesterday and offered to help Ferris by flying with him from town to town. Arrangements were being made for Tyree or his associate, George W. Ehlers, to meet Ferris at Nowata and take him to Pawhuska Friday morning and from Pawhuska to Pawnee Saturday morning.

GROCERS PREDICT LITTLE CHANGE IN PRICES THIS YEAR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 16.—That little change will occur in food prices during the coming year was the general belief expressed yesterday by members of the Oklahoma Wholesale Grocers' and Jobbers' association, which held its fourth annual meeting in the Hinkley hotel. Tom Hale of McAlester was elected president of the association for 1920.

The convention ended with a banquet last night when members of the Merchandise Brokerage association of Oklahoma City were guests of the wholesalers. W. C. Bell of Oklahoma City was toastmaster. Talks were made by E. A. Humphrey of Clinton, D. B. Crane of Fort Smith, Ark., Tom Hale, Frank C. Gates of McAlester and G. F. Roach of Muskogee.

FLU AND PNEUMONIA RAGING IN CHICAGO

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A marked increase was reported today in the number of deaths in Chicago caused by influenza and pneumonia during the last 24 hours. Thirty-two persons died of pneumonia and five of influenza. One death was reported at the Great Lakes naval station.

Influenza cases of an abdominal type, resembling cholera but less dangerous were found. Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner, reported. The new form of influenza is more deadly than the ordinary cases which are not appearing in a virulent form.

First Political Inning for Ladies Comes Tomorrow

The democratic women of Pontotoc County will make history tomorrow when they meet the first time in the history of the county for political purposes.

In this respect, at least, the meeting will stand out pre-eminently and will mark the beginning of a new era for the women who are soon to assume the new responsibility of political equality with men.

The county convention, called to meet at the district court room at two o'clock in the afternoon, will be called to order on time, and it is expected that every community in the county will be represented.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize the democratic women of the county into a permanent county organization, elect county officers and twenty-four delegates to the state convention of women democrats to be held in Oklahoma City on the 29th inst.

At the state convention matters of great import to the democracy of the state and nation will come up for consideration, and it behooves the women of this and every other county in the state to see to it that full representation is sent, and that he delegation be composed of representatives and able women.

Let old Pontotoc, on tomorrow, sustain her time honored record of doing all things well.

Bill Sugg, better known around town as "bugger", will wrestle with the bear at the Carnival this evening.

First Dry Raid In Whole Country Pulled Off in Ada

The advent of constitutional prohibition nationwide was celebrated early this morning by Sheriff Duncan, who pulled off the first raid in the whole United States under the new dry dispensation. At 2:45 o'clock this morning he went to the home of Arthur High in Northtown and seized 32 bottles and one quart jar of fake. No arrests were made. Pontotoc county thus maintains her record of leading the entire nation in nationwide drives.

LET'S GO!

Lunchers are now being served by the ladies of the Cemetery Association at the carnival at the city hall. These ladies owe about $200.00 on the cemetery fence. They are trying to raise this amount, and are selling exquisite lunches for that purpose.

Beginning at 12 o'clock and continuing till the carnival closes near midnight you can buy something to eat that is really worth while from these ladies at the carnival. They want to make Saturday their best day. This is a most worthy cause, and everyone should make an effort to help out by patronizing these ladies.

Let's go. And again—

The college professors of New York and immediate vicinity have formed a provisional organization which was chartered last April by the American Federation of Labor and which will be the third union in the United States to include college and university teachers in its membership.

CADE IS IN DOUBT AS TO MCGRAW'S INTENT

SHAWNEE, Jan. 15.—(Special) C. M. Cade, former republican national committeeman for Oklahoma, gave out the following statement tonight regarding the McGraw-Hamilton controversy:

"I see by the press that J. J. McGraw has been converted to the Wood boom. If he comes to us honestly in favor of Gen. Leonard Wood for president and not for the purpose of being elected national committeeman, we welcome him. But if he comes for the purpose of getting the benefit of the 'Wood for President' boom that has been started and is being carried on by Harris, Hamon and their friends, and is not honestly for Wood, he had better hang a millstone around his neck and jump into the high seas where the tide ebbs and flows every twenty-four hours."

Special Music Sunday
The choir at the First Methodist Church is being reorganized and will furnish special music at both services Sunday.

The race for Queen of the Carnival has narrowed down to two, Eva Sparks and Bill Zorn. Only one thousand votes between these. Come out and help your favorite. Prize is a beautiful diamond ring, on display ever night at the carnival. 1-16-21

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peru-NA. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peru-NA saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently. So when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs. When all seemed lost, I began desponding, without avail, until I began Peru-NA. It cured me, so I cannot praise it too highly."

It Cured Me

Reading Course for Boys

A Boy Who Has Learned to Use His Time Well and Has a Little Good Advice in Selecting Books May Easily Read Two Dozen Good Books a Year Without Infringing on His Time for Work, Sleep, or Play, Thus Becoming Familiar With a Large Part of the World's Best Literature.

HOME READING COURSE NO. 4

(A certificate, bearing the seal of the United States Bureau of Education, signed by the Commissioner of Education, will be given to each boy who gives satisfactory evidence of having read all the books on the accompanying list.)

FOR most boys in the United States school days are few. The average is only a little more than 1,000 for each boy. For many boys the days are fewer still. While in school they have little time for general reading. Lessons in arithmetic, algebra, geometry, elementary science, geography, history, composition, technical grammar and other subjects take up most of the time. But all boys in the country and city alike may, if they will, find much time for the reading of good literature on Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, during the long vacations, and after they have quit school. Even if a boy works steadily for 10 hours a day, six days a week, he may still find much time for such reading, if only he has learned to save his time, has a taste for reading, and has formed the reading habit.

In a week there are 168 hours. Ten hours of work a day for 6 days make 60 hours for the week (most boys work much less; in many cities and states the day's work is limited to 8 hours); 10 hours a day for eating and sleeping make 70 hours; 3 hours a day for play and recreation make 21 hours; a total of 151 hours. This leaves 17 hours a week or 884 hours a year, for reading—as many hours as are spent in school by a boy who attends school regularly and promptly 5 hours a day, 9 months in the year, with only 3 holidays.

A boy who has learned to use his time well and has a little good advice in selecting books may easily read two dozen good books a year without infringing on his time for work, sleep or play and recreation. By reading two dozen good books a year, any boy may, before he is 20 years old, become familiar with a large part of the best literature of the world, fill his mind with helpful ideas and noble ideals, and gain much of the finest culture that the world can offer. Many men have attained all this with less of opportunity than is presupposed here.

For reasons easily understood, books on religion are not included in this list. But every American boy of whatever church he may be, or if he be of no church, should know the English Bible and read it constantly.

A good book should be read more than once, and every boy should own some of the books that he reads. Books are cheap, and money paid for them is well invested and will pay large dividends in life and happiness and even in money.

Most cities and towns in the United States and some country communities have good public libraries; and many public schools, both in city and country, have good collections. Every community in which boys and girls live should have a public library with all the books of this list and many others in it.

If there is no such library in your community in the school or elsewhere, then you should get all the boys and girls to work with you and not rest until there is one.

Readers who wish to secure the bureau's certificate must notify the bureau at the time they begin each book, and when the book is finished they must send a summary consisting of a description of the principal characters, the chief episodes, and their own impressions. Some of the books do not lend themselves to this form of summary. In these cases send a brief statement of the essential features of the books.

By application to local or state libraries readers may be able to borrow these books. The Bureau of Education does not furnish them.

To each person who gives satisfactory evidence of having read all the books on this list, a certificate will be awarded bearing the seal of the United States Bureau of Education and signed by the Commissioner of Education.

For admission to the circle of readers in this course it is necessary only to write to the Home Education Division, Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., giving your name and postoffice address, your age, and a brief statement of your education and occupation. It is not necessary that books should be read in the order given. They should all be read, however, within three years from the time you register.

Attorney Says He Will Construe His Clients Literally

By News' Special Service

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 16.—A local attorney says hereafter he will take literally the meaning of what his clients say to him. Recently he was appointed by the court to defend a man charged in Federal Court with counterfeiting. The accused was acquitted. As the lawyer and his client walked from the court room the man accused said, "I'm sorry I can't pay you now but as soon as I make some money I'll square the debt."

The promise of the defendant was almost forgotten by the lawyer but one day he found several crisp new bills in a letter to him from the

Can You Write a Headline for This?

Foley's Honey and Tar is the best known and most successful family cough medicine on the market and the following letter is positively true and genuine:

Says "It Acts Like Magic"

Gilbert Fleming, 3011 Belling Ave., Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I have much pleasure in testifying to the very great benefit my family and I have derived from the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It positively acts like magic, and to my mind there is nothing on the market that can compare with it. Whenever there are any of our household suffering from heavy colds or bad coughs or hoarseness, we at once get a bottle from our local drug store, and after one or two doses obtain instant relief. Your company deserves great credit for such a valuable production and from our own experience we cannot do otherwise but recommend it to our friends and this we willingly do and will continue to do so."

Foley's Honey and Tar COMPOUND

CLEARs THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Coughs that "hang on" after the grip or "flu" are relieved by Foley's Honey and Tar.

"Reasonableness" to Be Observed in New Prohi. Enforcement

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Word was passed out today by Captain Hubert E. Howard, director of federal prohibition in Illinois that enforcement of the eighteenth constitutional amendment, effective at midnight tomorrow night, would be "based upon mutual reasonableness, and carried out by reasonable and slow working authorities."

Captain Howard and Major A. V. Dalrymple, general prohibition agent of the Chicago district, announced there would be "no invasion of the home, no raiding of respectable clubs and hotels, and no frisking for hip liquor."

SCHOOL TEACHERS HOPE OF FREEDOM

EDUCATION LEADERS ARE URGED TO TAKE THE LEAD IN AN EFFORT TO STAMP OUT BOLSHIEVISM

By the Associated Press
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 16.—To show up the manner in which the principals of Bolshevism would tear down and destroy "all the fundamental principles of liberty and democracy as we in America hold them sacred," educational leaders were urged to take the lead in telling the truth about Bolshevism as the best means of combatting it. This remedy was advocated by W. M. Jardine, president of the Kansas State Agricultural college, in an address today before the Council of Administration of the Kansas State Teachers' Association, in session here.

Honest publicity is the best cure for the threatened evils of Bolshevism," said President Jardine. "There should, however, be a better understanding between operators and their workmen. To this end educators should urge that operators publish to their workmen the facts of their respective industries, thus enlisting their cooperation instead of their blind, destructive opposition and should advocate the participation of labor in the management and profit of industry." Pointing out in what sense Bolshevism conflicts with the principles of democracy, President Jardine stated that under Bolshevism: "The schools are entirely dominated by the 'autocracy of the proletariat.'"

Freedom of speech and freedom of press are denied. All religious and denominational institutions suppressed. All church property nationalized; right of the church to solemnize marriage is denied. The family, a social unit in America, loses this characteristic. (The sanctity of the home easily is invaded by the compulsory sharing of homes and the nationalization of women—a weapon used against the upper classes and as formerly advocated by Karl Marx "is destructive of family life and of the principle of the sanctity of the home.")

Destroys all labor organizations;

Fifty years of highest quality. 60c. and $1.20 a bottle—all druggists.

denied the principle of cooperation in industry.

Denies to each worker a proportionate return for his toil and advocates the doctrine of equal distribution of the products of toil.

Arms the laboring classes and disfranchises all who employ labor for gain.

Gives to 10 per cent of the population more voice in the affairs of government than have the peasants who form 80 per cent of the population.

President Jardine said the present scheme of Bolshevism is grounded on the doctrines of Karl Marx, who in 1847, advocated the gradual supremacy of the working classes, through peaceful evolution. This doctrine was developed by Michael Bakunin, Russian anarchist, who urged overthrow of government by force.

NATIONAL OWEN OFFICES PLANNED

HEADQUARTERS TO BE OPENED IN CHICAGO OR K. C.; QUARTERS SECURED AT 'FRISCO

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 15.—National headquarters for the Senator R. L. Owen movement for nomination for president will be opened immediately in Kansas City or Chicago, it was stated here today by H. R. Christopher, who has had charge of the Owen candidacy since the beginning. It was said that indications are Chicago would be the place. About one month before the national convention the headquarters will be removed to San Francisco.

Reserve Rooms in 'Frisco
Oklahoma City, Jan. 15.—Judge Jesse J. Dunn of San Francisco former associate justice of the Oklahoma supreme court, wired Owen for President headquarters at the state capitol yesterday that he had secured a five-room parlor suit in the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, from June 1 until after the close of the national convention which opens June 28.

H. R. Christopher announced that a big staff of Owen workers will be on the job in San Francisco beginning June 1.

80 YEARS OLD —FIT AS A FIDDLE

"I had a bad case of stomach and bowel trouble that four doctors could not help. Suffered all kinds of pain, was filled with gas and constipated for years. I was advised to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking a course of it four years ago my trouble has disappeared and have felt like a young man. Although 80 years old I feel fit as a fiddle." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. What Will Be Done With Whiskey Now In Storage Houses?

By the Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—Kentucky distillers still held several million gallons of liquor today, the last day before constitutional prohibition was initiated, notwithstanding attempts to export it. Last unofficial figures were that 35,000,000 gallons valued at approximately $400,000,000, remains in bonded warehouses. Its fate was in some doubt. Unless confiscated by the government, it was said, much of it probably will be sold for medicinal purposes.

Whiskey interests of this state waited until early December in the belief that the President, the Supreme Court or congress would lift the wartime prohibition ban. When the Supreme Court held the law constitutional and neither the President or congress raised the ban, they prepared for shipment of their stocks to foreign countries but were said to have been only nominally successful.

About that time some Kentucky interests announced, following a similar announcement in Chicago, that they would institute a suit in the court of claims, Washington, late this month or early February in an effort to secure reimbursement from the government for the whiskey that remained in this country after today. One almost immediate result of the permanent ban clamped down today may be the closing for good of the 300 Louisville saloons that survived the wartime law by conversion into soft-drink dispensaries. A number of the proprietors declared that they cannot operate under present profits and therefore expect to begin new businesses.

Meantime, the real work of prohibition enforcement officers began today. They were said to be ready to suppress all violations of the law in this state.

FAMOUS CURWOOD STORY SOON AT LIBERTY

"Back to God's Country," an adaptation from "Wapi, the Walrus," James Oliver Curwood's famous magazine story, will be seen at the Liberty Theatre, commencing Monday.

The story has its setting in the Canadian wilderness, from which it switches to the frozen Arctic northlands, where some of the most unusual scenes ever known to motion pictures were filmed.

Remember When You Were Fourteen

what a time your Mother had getting you to the barber shop on Saturday morning?

Well, now you're married and your wife wants you to have a new Velour Hat and we hope you are not going to complain that you can't spare the time like you used to when you needed a hair cut.

To choose a comely and congenial looking Velour from this stock will take about five minutes—if you are particular. And any home or foreign diplomat will readily agree that five minutes spent in pleasing the family is worth an hour of your time—anytime.

Judge Stuart Will Address Oklahoma Scott Ferris Club

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 16.—Judge Charles B. Stuart of Oklahoma City will deliver the principal address on the program arranged for the meeting of the Oklahoma Scott Ferris Club in Oklahoma City January 23. The address will deal in considerable detail with the record of the man whom Mr. Ferris would succeed in the United States Senate.

At this meeting a permanent organization of the Ferris club will be perfected and the club converted into a Statewide organization. Delegations of club members and workers in the Ferris organization in other counties have signified their intention of being present.

Clubs in the several counties are being rapidly formed.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING NEXT MONDAY EVENING

A very important meeting will be held in the interest of the new church building, J. Fred Jones, the state secretary, will be present and will speak. The committee has special and important reasons for inviting brother Jones to be present at this time. A brief but important program is being prepared for this occasion. This meeting will have great significance in the history of the Christian Church in Ada. Every member of the church should turn out. Refreshments will be served. Opportunity will be given for general discussion. Members of the church who read this are asked to speak to other members about this meeting and urge them to come. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

MONEY RATHER THAN HONOR IS DEMPSEY PLAN

(By HAROLD E. BECHTOLD.)

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Make no mistake about what the coming Carpentier-Dempsey fight is all about. Championship honors? Yes, yes, of course, but before that, the money.

Both camps are in complete agreement as to where the match will be held.

"Wherever there is the most dough," Dempsey says: "I'll box any man if I get my price."

Carpentier, seconded and spurred by the shrewd Descamps, says: "I am fighting not only for honor, but in a Homeric attempt to rebuild the fortune I lost during the war."

After my match with Dempsey I shall almost certainly retire. My ambition is to win the world's championship and re-establish my fortune.

Carpentier was a pit-boy in a mine near Lens when Descamps discovered him.

"I have had 68 fights," he says, and adds quickly with a this-is-the-most-interesting air: "And I have a complete record of what I got for each of them."

For my first fight I got 10 francs, for the next a little more, and on steadily until it ran into thousands of pounds.

"When the war broke out I was worth a million francs. Most of that I had invested in the coal fields around Lens where I worked as a boy, and I owned stock in the mine in which I used to work."

"Of course I was ruined by the war. Everyone knows the havoc wrought by the Germans at Lens. I hope to build up my lost fortune and I have made a very good start. I have made over $60,000 out of the Beckett fight, so far."

As to the outcome of the Dempsey fight, Carpentier says: "I know Dempsey is a good man and a hard fighter, but I think I can beat him."

If the bout is held in Pershing Stadium, Paris, there would probably be 30,000 seats at about $2 each as well as plenty of the usual high-priced ones.

The Four Living Creatures. The Four Living Creatures of the Apocalypse will be the subject of the sermon Sunday evening at the Christian Church. This will be the third of the series of sixteen sermons on the Book of Revelation. Those who desire to understand the entire Book should be present at every one of these evening services.

A sermon missed will be like a link out of a chain. We are looking for a large audience Sunday evening. A question box is at the door and the public is invited to use it.—C. V. Dunn, Minister.

GIRL STAR GENTLES A SAVAGE BEAST

How a woman who understands and loves animals can gentle the most savage brute, that would kill anyone else who touched it, is shown in the picture, "Back to God's Country," adapted from the story of "Wapi, the Walrus," by James Oliver Curwood, in "Good Housekeeping" magazine.

Nell Shipman, the leading player who is a great lover of pets, does not hesitate to put her arms around Wapi, a savage brute, when the dog is making every effort to tear the throats of two traders who are lashing the dog. The dog instantly calms from its insensate fury and permits her to pet it.

The dog later breaks his chain to follow the trail over the ice to the girl, the only person who has been kind to him.

Polly-Brown.

Gilbert Polly, the popular young manager of the furnishings department of the Model Clothiers, frightened his co-workers recently by wearing queer and coming to work wearing his house slippers and night-shirt. It's all very clear now and his absent-mindedness is accounted for.

Polly is married.

The lucky bride is Miss Edna Brown, and the marriage occurred last evening at the home of C. S. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson being an aunt of the bride. Rev. Taylor of the Methodist church performed the ceremony and the first announcement of the marriage was made by the reading of a telegram by one of the actors with the Roquemore show at the Liberty Theatre last evening.

Mr. Polly has lived in Ada eight years, counting one year spent in the army and overseas, and the courtship which culminated in the wedding last evening has covered a period of about three years. Miss Edna Brown hails from Paris—no, you're wrong—not France, but Arkansas. Nevertheless a more admirable young lady could not be found, even in France. Miss Brown has been attending the Normal School here, this being her third year.

Both parties to the match are well known and have many friends here who wish them a long life of conjugal happiness.
